Tub to shower conversions

Tub-to-shower conversions are perfect for those who find it difficult to climb over a bathtub edge or would simply prefer the extra space of a large shower. We will convert an existing bathtub area into an extra-large, easy-access shower area. These conversions can usually be done within one day - minimizing the inconvenience to you.

Stair Chair lifts

Stair lifts are suitable for most housing situations with straight or curved stair cases. The home stair lift is equipped with your safety and ease of operating in mind. Stair lifts are designed to comply with all safety requirements including, when obstructed, the stair chair lift will automatically stop and return to the top or bottom of the stair case. There are no special building alterations needed and the stair lift can be installed on the right or left side of the stair case.

Residential elevators

Residential elevators or lifts make the home more accessible, increase mobility and add convenience while providing a smooth ride. These elevators are designed with an outstanding array of standard features, or you can create a unique custom elevator with just the right style, features and finishes that is sure to blend into, and add to the aesthetics of your home.

Ramps

Improving accessibility can often be addressed by simply installing a modular ramp. These ramps are slip-resistant and can usually be installed within a couple hours. They offer unique handrail designs and colors created to blend into your home's architecture. What's more, they can be easily removed and used at a different location over and over again - making them ideal for a short term use or when needed for longer term or for multiple purposes.

Barrier-free showers

Barrier-free showers are easier to get in and out of than conventional showers or bathtubs. People with mobility challenges can walk in directly or a wheelchair can be rolled into the shower stall. These showers have no curb, with the shower floor at the same level as the bathroom floor, allowing people with all abilities to enjoy a safe, comfortable shower experience without sacrificing style.

Walk-in tubs

If you've been missing the comfort of a bathtub because it's too hard to get in and out of, a walk-in tub might be perfect for you. These tubs provide an easier and safer way to get in and out of than a conventional bathtub. Instead of having to step over a tub wall, simply walk in, sit down, shut the door and fill the tub with warm water. It's an ideal way to relax and unwind in comfort and convenience.

Butler Metro Housing Authority

BUTLER METRO HOUSING AUTHORITY HOUSING WITH A HEART

What We Do

The Butler Metro Housing Authority (BMHA) provides more than just a place to live. We understand the challenges many families face today, and strive to put heart into the programs and services we offer. Our housing options and supportive services help families in financial strain ensure their children have the opportunity to go to a better school, or simply put a roof over an individual without a place to call home.

Dedicated to the belief that providing basic shelter is only part of the equation, we also partner with other local organizations and groups to provide access to essential tools and training that fosters education, involvement and self-sufficiency.

THE MISSION OF THE BUTLER METROPOLITAN HOUSING AUTHORITY

"...To address the housing needs of society - discrimination free - and to increase access to affordable housing, support community development and offer economic opportunities within our communities."

Housing Choice Voucher Program

The Housing Choice Voucher Program, formerly known as "Section 8", provides assistance for very low-income households (single or family), the elderly, and the disabled to afford decent, safe, and sanitary housing in the private market.

Participants who receive vouchers search for their own housing, which may include single-family homes, townhomes, duplexes, apartments, mobile homes, or even the family's present residence. Housing Choice Voucher assistance is portable anywhere in the United States, including Guam, Puerto Rico, Alaska, Hawaii, and the Virgin Islands.

Provided the housing they select meets the requirements of the program, the housing subsidy is paid to the landlord directly by Butler Metro Housing Authority on behalf of the family.

Federal funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) are provided to the Housing Authority to administer the Housing Choice Voucher Program.

Public Housing Program

The public housing program opportunities for low and moderate income units owned and operated Housing Authority.

The BMHA owns and maintains within the cities of Hamilton and Middletown, units range in size from efficient high rise communities and two family communities. BMHA has units in varying sizes available homes scattered throughout the area.

Rent is calculated based upon household income and cannot exceed 30% income. Utilities are provided allowances are provided elsewhere.

The communities all offer 24-hour dedicated staff.

BMHA receives funding from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to administer the Public Housing Program.

The Butler Metropolitan Housing Authority (BMHA) has been serving the citizens of Butler County for over 70 years by providing affordable rental housing to low and moderate income persons.

BMHA was founded on December 29th, 1938 as the Hamilton Metropolitan Housing Authority under the Housing Act of 1937. The name of the organization was changed in 1966 to the Butler Metropolitan Housing Authority to better describe the services we offer.

BMHA is a political subdivision of the state of Ohio and was created under the Housing Act of 1937 through an act of the Ohio Legislature. BMHA is administered under the regulations of: The Department of Housing and Urban Development, The State of Ohio and local governments.

BMHA is governed by a 5 member Board of Commissioners appointed to staggered 5 year terms. Two members are appointed by the Hamilton City Manager (with approval from the Hamilton City Council), one member by the Common Pleas Court, one member by the Probate Court and one member by the Butler County Commissioners.

Connect and Sell

ConnectAndSell vs. Dialers

Most sales people hate to cold call. It is frequently considered by many to be the single most stressful and distasteful part of selling. Given this, some have turned to predictive or automated dialers in an attempt to reach a prospect quickly. Relying on these methods, however, can create several issues for your sales rep's and the prospects you're trying to reach.

Predictive or Power Dialers

Predictive or power dialers often use algorithms to predict when a prospect will answer the phone and will dial multiple, simultaneous lines per agent - an average 150 calls per hour. In order to maximize efficiency and little downtime, predictive dialers call more numbers than there are available reps - sometimes as many as 10 calls for each sales rep - and starts dialing new contacts before the reps finish their former call. This certainly ensures that all sales reps will be busy all the time, but it also frustrates contacts. If the sales rep is occupied on another call, the call is placed in a holding state, until the representative is available. This lag time creates significant frustration for the person being called and often ends in a disconnect or hang-up. Other challenges with dialers include:

- Bad Calls Passed. Historically 20% of answering machines, tri-tones and bad numbers are passed-through.
- Call Abandonment. Predictive systems have an average of 5% call abandonment.
- Latency. Predictive dialers average 1 second between a prospect saying "hello" and the sales person hearing a beep.
- Prospect Accuracy. The person answering the phone may or may not be the actual listed prospect.
- Large Call List Required. Most dialers require a large call record count of 10,000-20,000 to be effective, as well as 8 agents in queue to accept calls.

The ConnectAndSell Difference

Unlike dialers, ConnectAndSell does the grunt work for the sales person, will never listen to an answering machine or waste your sales rep's time by passing through a bad call. We use a combination of patented dialing technology and human intelligence to make up to 300 calls per sales person with 12 live ConnectAndSell agents dedicated to making at least 5 real connections per hour. On average we deliver 8-10 live connections, but if we don't deliver at least 5 live connections with your prospect per hour - the hour is free. Other unique differences to our approach include:

- Sub-second, Hot Transfer. Our patented technology performs a "hot" transfer in under 1/3 of one second - critical to ensuring a good first impression with your prospect.
- Zero Abandonment Rate. We don't abandon calls, ever. If a prospect answers the phone, we immediately transfer the call to your sales rep.
- No List is Too Small. Unlike dialers that require a large list to call to maximize efficiency, we can handle any size of list from 50 to 50,000.
- Prospect Accuracy. We get past the gatekeepers, IVR systems, and voice mail messages, wrong numbers and connect you to the actual person on your target list.
- Only You Talk to the Prospect. Although we navigate through the phone systems, voice mail, gate keepers and other obstacles, we never talk to the prospect on your list. Once he / she answers the phone, we hot transfer the call in less than 1/3 of a second.

Green Solutions AutoGas

companies turning to autogas as an alternative to gasoline, save up to 50% on fuel costs

In today's economy, every effort is being made by companies to cut operating costs and improve their bottom line. One of the transportation industry's most difficult expenses to control is the continuous change in fuel costs.

Although propane has been around for 100 years, it didn't work well with carbureted engines. Over the last few years, and with the advent of electronic fuel injection, there has been renewed interest and investments made in addressing and resolving the issues of using propane as an alternative fuel to gasoline. Vehicles can now run efficiently on propane, also known as autogas, and today this fuel is the most widely used alternative vehicle fuel in the world. With the price of autogas averaging 40% to 50% less per gallon than gasoline, many fleet owners are turning to autogas as an alternative fuel for their vehicles.

the most advanced alternative fuel upgrade

Let Green Solutions Autogas help reduce your transportation costs

Green Solutions Autogas LLC has the most advanced Alternative Fuel Upgrade on the market today. Green Solutions Autogas LLC is the local distributor of the XSI-G Alternative Fuel Upgrade that allows a standard gasoline powered vehicle to be upgraded to run on propane or gasoline as the need dictates and by partnering we can provide a supporting infrastructure as well.

Semipublic autogas fueling dispensers can be erected near any fleet to provide ready fueling for XSI-G Alternative Fuel Upgraded vehicles. Green Solutions Autogas has a complete package designed to supply the fuel needs of any fleet while greatly reducing the pollutants produced by vehicles operating on gasoline and significantly reducing fuel costs at the pump.

Dual Systems

Since the autogas infrastructure is in its infancy, a better method of operating on autogas would be to utilize a bi-fuel system that allows the vehicle to run on either gasoline or autogas. The vehicle starts on gasoline and then switches to autogas and continues to run until it empties the tank at which point a computer seamlessly switches the vehicle back to gasoline allowing it to be driven to an autogas refueling station. The bi-fuel system reduces fuel costs while retaining gasoline as a backup fuel.

EMISSIONS less than gasoline powered vehicles

why Autogas?

Vehicles that run efficiently on propane, also known as autogas, typically experience as much as 60% less emissions than a comparably equipped gasoline powered vehicle while not relinquishing power or mileage. This offers a much needed alternative to gasoline while providing a more environmentally friendly green fuel. The service maintenance intervals on vehicles operating on autogas can also be extended by two to three times the normal mileage. For example, a regular 3,000 mile oil change can be extended to 6,000 miles and often to 9,000 miles because autogas is significantly cleaner and produces less destructive acid, carbon, and water contamination in the oil while the engine is running.

Top 10 reasons to choose Mona Lisa's Permanent Makeup Training Center!

About Me

My name is Ramona Lisa Abner. Everyone has always called me Mona Lisa, which is why I chose this name for the business. The real Mona Lisa had no eyebrows or eyelashes, thus making the name Mona Lisa's even more appropriate.

I have lived in this area all of my life. My husband and I have been married thirty years. We have three beautiful daughters and eight wonderful grandchildren. Besides my family, my passion is permanent makeup. I love making people feel more beautiful, while making their lives easier. It also gives me great pleasure to educate others on how to do the same.

Just like the famous painting, I see women with no eyebrows. I want them to be aware of all the permanent makeup procedures available to them. These wonderful options would have probably even made the Mona Lisa smile.

Steven's Wood Shop

Wishing Wells

The wishing well has always held an enchanted place in our imagination. At Steven's Woodshop, our wishing wells are hand-crafted and made of durable pressure treated wood for maintenance-free enjoyment for years to come. Our wishing wells are a perfect accent to any garden decor, a substantial piece of hardscape suitable for a yard, woodland setting, or other visual area.

Grace your garden with this rustic lawn accent standing 4 feet tall and built in a circular, natural design - complete with your choice of a hanging basket or planter. Each component is individually measured, cut, and fastened by Steven. The size of our standard wishing wells are 51 inches high by 31 inches in diameter, although larger or smaller sizes are available upon request.

About Steven

At four months old, Steven was diagnosed with brain damage from an unknown cause, which manifested itself with seizures, verbal apraxia, and developmental delays, all of which continue to this day. He, however, does not see himself as different from anyone else, is proud of the work he does, and thrives on the independence of being employed. He absolutely loves to build wishing wells, since from his earliest years Steven has had a passion for hammering.

The goal for Steven's Woodshop is to provide an opportunity for Steven to spend his time doing something he loves to do, while focusing on producing a well-made, handcrafted product. With enough work to keep him consistently busy, the hope is for him to enjoy a greater sense of autonomy, enabling him to give back to his community, and to demonstrate that successful entrepreneurship is attainable for all.

About Studio461 Photography

I have always been fascinated with pictures. They tell stories about us, who we are, where we're from and what we do. They reflect our personalities and our emotions. When I was a young girl, I would explore the old black and white prints of my grandparents. They would intrigue me and made me eager to hear stories about their lives.

Since then, it's been second nature to have a camera in my hand, seeing images that no one else notices - capturing and preserving that moment in a person's life.

I've been blessed and encouraged by my husband, family and friends, and now pursue a passion that has opened up a new chapter in my life. I would love the opportunity to help preserve your special moments - because after all, life is an image... capture it!

Enterprise Content Management

ECM including Distributed Data Capture Solutions for the Oil and Gas Industry

Information Management is a Challenge

According to industry experts, there is a significant opportunity for companies in the Oil & Gas Industry to leverage information technology (IT) to improve and refine their business operations, while the digital divide is closing the integration of new and old technology. It has resulted in new challenges for the industry. Of course, the nearly exponential growth in data has been exacerbated by the global structure of oil and gas companies and the human capital challenge within the industry.

Oil and gas companies need an information architecture that not only supports the diverse upstream environments globally, but also provides a platform to drive performance improvements. It needs to support integration with and access to relevant information, but also in a way that can be easily deployed to address a departmental need, quickly, cost effectively and with minimal disruption to the organization.

Executives and Lower/Mid-level professionals recognize the value of a highly enterprisewide solution, yet numerous impediments often hinder an organization's ability to accurately assess the understanding's feasibility, rapidly make a decision and smoothly manage the deployment to successful completion. One thing is certain: Business first starts with finding, capturing and managing an enormous amount of relevant content through internal and often external work processes.

UFC CAN HELP

The global nature of the document capture environment can be a significant roadblock in the oil and gas industry. On one hand the centralized content management server can be located in a single geographically strategic location near the central management infrastructure making it relatively easy to deploy and maintain. On the other hand the document capture requirements for the industry represent a challenge because of the widely separated document capture and content management locations. Capturing these documents and the time sensitive data contained within them, such as field operation documents, invoices, vendor shipping documents or employee expense reports, requires decentralized distributed document capture capabilities. The nature of oil and gas exploration and production is global and field based. A successful deployment of a distributed document capture system to this wide geographic landscape has to rely on minimal systemic resources at the capture site and extreme flexibility in the nature of the document capture workflow.

UFC is a consulting, integration and solutions development firm preferred by clients in the Oil and Gas Industry for their quality, innovation and integration expertise, making them uniquely qualified to meet these challenges. UFC provides capture, enterprise content management software, support and integration services based upon a flexible system architecture and common set of applications for collecting, classifying, retaining, migrating, securing and accessing information—all at the lowest cost of ownership.

When importing images, users can choose to save in different file formats, including PDF. Users can also password-protect images exported as PDFs and can export images, text, briefcases, electronic documents and search results.

To simplify system administration, the Lawlife® product suite is built on top of Microsoft technologies, making it quick and easy to install to accommodate both an increasing number of users and high-volume repository growth.
